

PASSOVER —

Alan Barron and Rabbi Navah Levine lit the chametz on fire during the chametz burning ceremony yesterday at Temple Emeth in Brookline. The ceremony took place after a Passover service for the first born, Siyyum B'chorim. The chametz ceremony involves burning leftover leavened bread, which may not be consumed during the eight days of Passover.

KAYANA SZYMCZAK FOR THE BOSTON GLOBE