

Millie!!!

(People)

Millie!
Millie Levitt! Millie!
The most wonderful mother in the world!

Her children,
And her children's children,
On this evening SO filled with pride!
Kvelling! Farklempt inside!
Acting more like Millie than Millie!

Students,
Millie's cherished students,
They're the luckiest students in the world!

This no-nonsense and very special teacher!
Who taught Torah and mitzvot!
The holidays and brachot!
With such knowledge and love!
Above all with kindness, taught our Millie,
Mrs. Levitt! Millie!
The most wonderful teacher in the world!
(Soprano vocalizing into key change, more rhythmic accompaniment)

Brisket! Millie Levitt's brisket!
The most wonderful brisket in the world!
Oy! Such brisket!
From New York, single brisket!
But Shavuot is on the way!
She's making her blintze soufflé!
And she's thrilled that Pesach is over!

Millie!
Millie—MALKA! Millie!

There's nowhere we'd rather be in this world!
Than here to honor
Our woman of distinction!
With such a beautiful soul!
Who makes great Passover rolls!
(Norma, aside to audience, "And you should taste her matzo lasagna!")

No more hunger or thirst!
When first you're a person who knows Millie!
How we love our Millie!
You're the loveliest lady in the world!!!
